I'd love to see the rest of this stuff. Like the pictures and links. Is this still alive?

Seriously would love to see some more work from you.

For those spectators who are not aware, SomeArtist started all this with an amazing thread on the wings forum. This evolved into a blog and now he is sharing his efforts here.

Thanks SomeArtist.

That wings 3d thread is amazing, ive learnt more from what Someartist has explained more than any book or lecturer has explained. This is truly epic information.

I apologize for bumping an old thread, but is anyone able to restore the images and/or the video presented in the first post?

As someone who is new to box modeling, I would like to see these items.
